David Bush ensures that all his customers receive top-quality plants as well as landscaping.

Landscaping enhances yards

The perfect setting for a home you are proud of is a beautiful, well-landscaped yard, one created by experienced landscapers who know all about plants and the features that will enhance them best.

Bush Landscaping Inc. has been in business in Central Texas since 1978, providing just that type of skilled service on both large commercial and small residential jobs.

"We've also done work in Southern California, where we learned the experience of swimming pools, spas, Japanese ponds, stamped and colored concrete and masonry work and waterfalls and patio covers," said owner David Bush.

Tree and lawn lighting is another service done by Bush Landscaping, one which will provide your yard with striking effects at night.

Bush Landscaping Inc. handles anything connected with horticulture, Bush said, including trees and shrubs, hydro-mulch, irrigation, chemical applications and low-maintenance plants such as junipers and various hollies.

For example, they can provide you with low-maintenance, flowering plants such as crape myrtles, including dwarf varieties. There are new varieties every year, he said.

"Any kind of plant or tree that grows in Texas, we can get," he added.

He stressed that they shop around for the best quality of plants they can find so they can provide top-quality products for their customers.

"Apples to apples, we can underbid any reputable company in DFW and make you proud of your investment, guaranteed," Bush said.

Despite the recent mild winter, Bush said nurseries are predicting that we can expect a hard, cold winter in 1992. He recommends landscaping early and establishing strong root systems to plan for it.

No matter where you live in North Central Texas, Bush Landscaping will gladly travel there to fulfill your landscaping and horticulture needs. For more information, call them at metro (817) 654-2874.
